Statement of Purpose

Many of the films and/or television shows featured in this catalogue are taken from the original films and recordings with the original casts and artists that were filmed or recorded many decades ago. Some of these come directly from 16mm or 35mm film, or videotape, which existed long before today's digital technology and high-quality standards.

The same applies to the Live in Concert series which were recorded many years ago, in some cases during the 70s and 80s. These feature the original artist recordings.

In some cases the original masters of the black and white films and television series, which again were originally filmed many decades ago, have been lost or destroyed. Due to this we have had to trawl material from many collectors and celluloid lovers in order to get copies of these missing masters, in many cases from an individual's own private collection. Therefore we have many cans of original films and negatives being stored at laboratories which we cannot use until a master needs to be produced.

We apologise for the quality of some of the viewing copies that we have available – as these may have been taken from old film and tape copies themselves the quality may be poorer than expected. However these should be seen as viewing copies only and are not representative of the final master quality. In all cases the quality is only as good as the original master and, in some instances, imperfections exist in the original and this quality is reflected due to the age of the film.

Our prime motive is to preserve the original performances and the feel that the actors created in the performance.

In addition, through various associates, we have access to additional material that you may wish to have use of so if a film, actor or actress that you require is not listed in this catalogue then we are likely to be still able to trace it for you, subject to license and availability.
